Road Signs

Road signs are essential for navigating the roads safely. Make sure you understand the meaning of each sign to avoid confusion and potential hazards. Here are some common road signs you'll encounter:

- Stop sign: A red octagon with the word "STOP" in white. You must come to a complete stop at the stop line or before entering the intersection.
- Yield sign: A yellow triangle with the word "YIELD" in black. You must slow down and yield to oncoming traffic before proceeding.
- Speed limit sign: A white circle with a black number indicating the maximum speed limit in miles per hour.
- School zone sign: A yellow diamond with a black silhouette of children. The speed limit is reduced in school zones, and you must be extra cautious when driving through.
- No parking sign: A white circle with a red slash through a parked car. Parking is prohibited in these areas.

Traffic Laws

In addition to road signs, you must also be familiar with Tennessee's traffic laws. These laws help ensure the safety of all drivers and pedestrians.

- Speed limits: The speed limit varies depending on the type of road you're driving on. In general, the speed limit is 55 mph on highways, 45 mph on major roads, and 30 mph in residential areas.
- Right of way: The right of way refers to who has the right to proceed through an intersection first. Generally, vehicles approaching from the right have the right of way.
- Passing: You may pass other vehicles if there is enough space and it is safe to do so. However, you must never pass on the right or in a no-passing zone.

- Turning: When turning, you must always signal your intention and check your mirrors and blind spots for other vehicles.
- Drunk driving: Driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs is a serious offense. The legal blood alcohol concentration (BAC) limit in Tennessee is 0.08%.
